Why are you referring to this person?

Vivek Chaugule is a highly talented developer with abundant experience and expertise in various technologies, including React, Node.js, and Angular.

I had the pleasure of working with Vivek on several freelance projects, where we collaborated closely on development tasks involving these technologies. Vivek's technical competence, attention to detail, and devotion to providing high-quality code impressed me throughout our time together.

In addition to their technical skills, Vivek is a pleasure to work with. They are strong written and verbal communicators, and they have a great attitude towards problem-solving and working collaboratively with others.

Based on my experience working with Vivek, I do not doubt he would be an asset to your team. I highly recommend him for Verafin.

What makes this person a good Verafin fit?

Vivek is a highly talented engineer enthusiastic about developing software that adds value to society. He is constantly ready to learn new technology and unafraid to face new challenges. He continually strives to develop himself and keeps up with current technological advances.

Vivek thrives in a team setting where he can share his knowledge and thoughts to achieve remarkable achievements. He takes ownership of his work and is driven to provide high-quality code on schedule. Furthermore, Vivek possesses the expertise and abilities to mentor and guide other developers, making him an excellent team player.

Vivek's enthusiasm for software development, drive to learn, collaborative approach, and coaching ability make him a perfect fit for Verafin.
